Common and uncommon things among team members:

Common–

1. C Programming Language.
2. Everyone have past experience of working in teams.
3. Team members are inclined towards improving their skills related to the course.
4. All have common academic background.
5. All group members know Hindi and English.

Uncommon–

1. Diversified skills (Ranging from web application development, android application to programming language)
2. Different perspectives of thoughts.
3. Different areas of interests.
4. Learning capacity and speed varies across the team.
5. All the team members are differently exposed to management skills.